General Summary

Sarah has years of experience working in hematology and oncology in both the inpatient and outpatient settings. Prior to becoming a nurse, she had a long history of working with individuals with intellectual disabilities. Sarah is devoted to being a consistent source of support to each patient and their family and providing individualized care. She strives to care for each patient as if they were her own family or friend. When Sarah is not in clinic, she enjoys exploring Central Texas with her Austinite husband, two young daughters, two dogs, and kitty cat roommate.
