General Summary

The science of medicine motivated Dr. Yarborough to become a physician, but the relationships she builds with patients and their families are what drives her to provide the best care available. Dr. Yarborough guides patients through their treatment journeys by offering the latest in evidence-based care with an equal emphasis on compassion and dignity. She tries to treat patients as she would her own family, and feels the doctor-patient relationship is a partnership. Dr. Yarborough prioritizes shared decision-making and individualizes her approach to ensure the care she provides aligns with each patient's goals.
