

Physician

Specialties:

Hematology

Medical Oncology

Board Certifications:

Internal Medicine

Medical Oncology

Texas Oncology-Medical
City Dallas Building D

7777 Forest Lane, Suite
D400

Dallas, TX 75230

T: 972-566-7790

Metro Area: Dallas

Spoken Language:

English

General Summary

Since 1996, Ronald N. Kerr, M.D., has been a Clinical Assistant Professor of Internal Medicine at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School.

Education

Dr. Kerr received his medical degree in 1979 from the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School in Dallas, Texas, and completed his internship in internal medicine at Baylor University Medical Center in 1980 in Dallas. Additionally he completed his residency in internal medicine at Baylor University Medical Center in 1982 and his fellowship in medical oncology in 1985 at Georgetown University, Washington, D.C.

Accolades & Memberships

Dr. Kerr is a member of the American Society of Clinical Oncology, Dallas County Medical Society, American Medical Association, Texas Medical Association, and American Society of Hematology. In 2009 D Magazine elected Dr. Kerr as one of the best hematology oncologists in Dallas, Texas.