Other Information

Whitney recently moved to the hill country, where she and her soon-to-be husband have bought acreage and hope to build and settle there. She is an active supporter of Young Life and plans to support Comal County Young Life in the near future. She has volunteered as a camp nurse for Young Life at Crooked Creek Ranch in Colorado and has been a volunteer and leader at several other camps in the past. Whitney and her husband-to-be enjoy the outdoors, traveling, listening to live music, spending time with their families and friends, and venturing around the hill country. A combined dream of theirs is to become active in medical missions both stateside and overseas.
