

Physician

Specialties:

Interventional Radiology

Board Certifications:

Interventional Radiology

Texas Center for Interventional Surgery

4450 Sojourn Dr., Suite 200
Addison, TX 75001
T: 972-733-0014

Metro Area: Dallas

Spoken Language: English

Education

Dr. Cura received his medical doctorate from The Catholic University of Cordoba in Cordoba, Argentina. He completed his internship in internal medicine at Lincoln Medical and Mental Health Center in Bronx, NY; and his residency in radiology at Mount Sinai Medical Center in Miami Beach, FL. Dr. Cura completed his fellowship in vascular and interventional radiology at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York, NY.

Accolades & Memberships

European School of Radiology; Cardiovascular and Interventional Radiological Society of Europe; Texas Radiological Society; Council on Cardiovascular Radiology and Intervention, AHA, Council Member; American Heart Association; Society of Cardiovascular and Interventional Radiology; Radiology Society of North America; American Roentgenology Ray Society; American College of Radiology; Asociacion de Mastologia de Parana, Argentina; Fellow of the Society of Interventional Radiology, 2013; Cum Laude Award, "Aneurysms and Pseudoaneurysms of the Pulmonary Circulation: Imaging and Intervention," RSNA, 2009; Certificate of Merit Award, Primary and Secondary Tumors of the Aorta and Great Vessels: Imaging Overview," RSNA, 2008; San Antonio "Top Doctors," Awarded for being one of San Antonio's top doctors, Scene In S.A. Magazine, 2007 and 2008; Certificate of Merit Award, "Immediate and Delayed Biliary and Vascular Complications Post Segmental Liver Transplant in the Pediatric Population: Imaging Spectrum and the Role of Image-guided Minimal Invasive Percutaneous/Endovascular Interventions", RSNA, 2007.